PROGRESS

This week we met as a team to see the modified CAD drawings of the prototype. Based on our work, they should be ready to print and test within the next week or so. In addition, we began making a rough outline about how to tackle the VV report, and divided up responsibility for different sections of the report that each member is responsible for. Finally, we began working on the proposal for the Johns Hopkins Design Competition.

QUESTIONS FOR THE GROUP

When do we want to meet with the client to give him updates and possibly show him the printed prototype?

QUESTIONS FOR PROFESSOR KLAESNER

Will there be any problems with IP if we enter our senior design project into the Johns Hopkins Design Competition?
