PROGRESS

This week was primarily spent preparing for the presentation on Wednesday. We collaborated on the slides together, and helped Varun practice his speech, giving feedback where necessary. One of the pieces of feedback to Varun, and also the rest of the group for future presentations, is to avoid speaking too rapidly when presenting, and to practice the presentation multiple times to prevent stuttering.

QUESTIONS

For the Group:

- When do we want to meet with the cline to go over preliminary CAD designs?
- How will we efficiently collaborate as a group on CAD designs ?

For Prof Klaesner:

- What are common pitfalls encountered during CAD designing?
- What guidelines should we follow for 3D printing in the BME lab?
